At the Mall

AT THE MALL - BY OSAMA

My mother played in the street when she was a little girl. She and her friends chased each other and ran around. She says the streets were the best place to play. The streets were different then; there were not so many cars. But the city is growing. Today, there are a lot of cars and a lot more people.

Now I play at the mall. I meet my friends there. Rashid and I play in the play area together. It is cool and safe inside. My father says children always find a place to play even when the world changes.

My mum likes the mall too. She likes to meet her friends and shop with them.
