Reading

6 Read the text and choose the correct answers.

When Sally woke up, her bedroom seemed very bright. It was the middle of winter and usually it was still dark at this early hour of the morning. She got out of bed and drew the curtains. Outside, the whole world was white. It had snowed heavily during the night and it was still snowing. Sally was happy. She loved snow! Suddenly she heard a noise downstairs. She could hear someone walking around the kitchen. She got dressed quickly and ran down the stairs. She went into the kitchen. There was none there. Her dog, Ben, was sleeping in the corner. Then, to her surprise, she noticed that the back door of the cottage was open. She was sure she had locked it the night before. She looked at her watch. It was exactly eight o'clock. She opened the door and looked outside. There were fresh footprints in the snow, leading away from the house towards the forest. Sally was worried. Perhaps a thief had come into the house during the night. Then she remembered she had left her bag on the kitchen table. She checked it. Everything was still there – her passport, her purse, her keys. What had happened? Who had
