

A Letter Home

Dear Mom and Dad,

We're on our mid-morning break right now, so I thought I would write you a letter. Camp is pretty great! When I first got here, I wasn't having much fun. I couldn't sleep because of the strange noises outside our tent, and I have to take cold showers every day. But I'm starting to get used to camp life, even the chore rules. After every meal, we must clean up the tables and do the dishes. We also need to clean our tents and camping site every day. We must be doing a good job, because the camp director has been really nice to us.

It's not just chores though, there's fun stuff, too. In the morning we must follow the camp schedule, but in the afternoon, we have free time and can do anything we want. We can choose from a lot of different activities. Like this afternoon, I could play tag, do arts and crafts, or go hiking. It's pretty hot today, though, so I might go swimming in the lake. You should see the lake, by the way: it's just beautiful! I think I really should take more pictures, so I can show you when I get home.

Well, I need to get going, it's almost time for lunch. Tell everyone back home hello for me! Oh, and would you send me some stamps? I could use some more, I'm almost out.

A Letter to A Friend

Dear Belinda,

I am very annoyed right now! I am applying for a driver's licence, and I am very upset about all the things I have to do. First, I have to go to Motor Vehicle Department and pick up an application form. I can't ask a friend to pick up the form or ask them to send me an e-mail. I must go downtown and pick up the form in person. Then, I have to fill out the form. I can't not use a pencil; I must use a pen with black ink. I also need two photographs for the application. So, I can't use the old ones. They should be new. Later, I have to submit my application. I also need an eye examination test. Finally, I must take a road test, it is obligatory. They even ask me to park the car on a crowded city street.

No wonder why I got angry! I can't believe all the things I have to do.

I hope everything is fine for you unlike me.

Take care.

~Jack
