
ANATOMY LABELS

- Vagina
- Ovary
- Uterus
- Cervix
- Fallopian Tube

PHYSIOLOGY LABELS

- narrow tubes that assist the transfer and transport of the female reproductive cell
- maintain a sterile environment during conception and holds the fetus in until birth
- nourish and house a fertilized egg until the fetus, or offspring, is ready to be delivered
- a tube connecting the uterus to the outside of the body
- main reproductive organs that produce ova (egg) and the female sex hormones oestrogen progesterone

LIVEWORKSHEETS