- 16 Have you ever heard someone to sing, "Happy birthday to you?" If so, you 17 are hardly alone: few millions of people sing that song every year, and the 18 tune is one of the most familiar of any song in the North America.
19 Ironically, it is not known who wrote it! The tune which was written by two 20 sisters, who were school teachers in the late 19th century. But for their 21 song had been different words; instead of "happy birthday to you," the 22 song ran "a good morning to all." The two sisters would sing this ditty to 23 their students in each morning as school began. In 1924, the tune was 24 published in a song book, which was added the "happy birthday" lyrics as 25 the verse two. Today, the latter is the best known tunes in the world!
