Discovering my Identity- Personal Interests and Abilities

Christians believe that God created everyone uniquely. A child's abilities and interests may fluctuate as he/she grows and develops. It is important that children participate in many different activities so they can determine which ones they are really good at and what they enjoy doing. God has given us many talents and interests that can support our life's purpose. An individual's abilities can help him/her choose a future career. For example, a person who can draw well may become an artist or architect.

Discovering my Identity- Biblical characters as examples

Gideon and Moses are two biblical examples of person who doubted their abilities. Gideon doubted his ability to defeat the Midianites; he told the Lord he was the weakest in his father's house. Moses said that he was not a good speaker and would not be able to speak before King Pharaoh. In spite of their doubts, God used both of these men to accomplish special tasks.
