

Fill in the blanks about learning using the words below.

memory

Learning

skills

processes

..... is something that everyone does, every day. People do not stop gaining new and knowledge throughout their whole life.

Learning depends on the other higher cognitive You must be able to use your to remember what you learn; you must be able to think and have the intelligence to learn new things.