The screenshot shows a web browser displaying the 'Kid's Box Ezine' website. The URL is <http://www.cambridge.org/elt/kidsbox/ezine>. The website has a green header with navigation links: home, reports, games, world, and email. The main content area is titled 'Kid's Box reports London' and features a star icon. Below the title, there is a paragraph: 'Yesterday we went to London and saw a lot of interesting places. Here are some of our photos.' This is followed by eight numbered items (a-h) each with a small image and a text box. Item (a) shows 'NEW SCOTLAND YARD' with text: 'New Scotland Yard is one of the most famous police stations in the world. A king of Scotland lived in the first Scotland Yard.' Item (b) shows the British Museum with text: 'This is the British Museum. There are six million objects here. One of them is The Rosetta Stone.' Item (c) shows the Globe Theatre with text: 'This is the new Globe Theatre. The first Globe theatre was famous because William Shakespeare showed his plays there.' Item (d) shows a 'POST OFFICE' sign with text: 'You can buy stamps for your postcards in the Trafalgar Square post office. They sold the first sticker stamps in this post office in 2001.' Item (e) shows 'Brown's' with text: 'This is Brown's. It's a hotel and restaurant. It's the oldest hotel in London. Rudyard Kipling wrote The Jungle Book here.' Item (f) shows Heathrow Airport with text: 'London's got six airports. This is Heathrow. It is the busiest airport in the world. 64 million people use this airport every year!' Item (g) shows the Tower of London with text: 'This castle is next to Tower Bridge. It's called the Tower of London. It looks beautiful now but for many years it was a terrible prison. Many people died here.' Item (h) shows a black cab with text: 'This is a London taxi. It's called a black cab. Black cab drivers have to pass a test to show that they know all the streets in London.'
