Harry's blog
Sunday, April 19th

Yesterday, we had a welcome party for Sally, a new student at school. Before the party, I went to my friend Mark's house for pizza. Then We went to school together in his dad's car. We saw all our friends there. Sally's parents were there, too. There was cool music but the room was too hot. We walked and played video games. Then there was a dancing competition. A lot of girls were good at dancing and Mark was good, too. He and Sally got a prize! We had a lot of fun!
