Choose the correct answer from the options.

a. Which of the following is not a pointing device?

b. An input device that captures text and pictures directly into the computer.

c. Keyboard, mouse, joystick etc are common

d. Output obtained on paper using a printer is called

e. Which of the following is an input device?

f. Which of these contain files as well as folders?

g. Computers can be used to play games.

h. Computers get tired and bored.

i. Joystick is not a pointing device.

j. Small pictures on the desktop are called icons.

k. A file stores other files and folders.

l. Save option is available in the edit menu.

m. The new command is used to open a new document.

n. The full form of CD is Compact Disco.

o. Which button should be clicked to reduce a window to a button on the taskbar?

p. The background of the desktop is called

q. The new command is used to open a new document.

LIVEWORKSHEETS