ОТНОСИТЕЛЬНЫЕ МЕСТОИМЕНИЯ / НАРЕЧИЯ

Who — кто, который, которые. Употребляется с одушевленными существительными:

The boy who is standing near the window is Robert.
The people who are waving me from the other side of the street are my friends.

Whom — который, которые. Употребляется с одушевленными существительными в косвенных падежах:

The boy whom I spoke to is my son.
That's the girl to whom I gave my book.

Which — который, которая, которые. Употребляется с неодушевленными существительными:

The book which / that I bought yesterday is on the shelf.
He asked me a question to which I didn't know the answer.

Which — что, это. Относится ко всему предшествующему предложению. Перед таким which обычно ставится запятая:

You help Peter, which is very kind of you.
You haven't fastened the belt , which is very dangerous for you.

Whose — чей:

Ann, whose son has won the first prize, is happy very much.

When — когда (о времени):

5. После слов, обозначающих промежуток времени (the day / week / month / time и т. д.):

I remember that day (that) we got married.

Относительное местоимение that употребляется только в придаточных ограничительных предложениях. Его также можно заменить на who (для людей) или which (для предметов).

Относительные местоимения which, whom, that могут опускаться, когда они выполняют функцию дополнения или обстоятельства в придаточных предложениях:

Here is the book (which / that) you gave me.
The woman (whom) you see in the hall is my best friend.

Запомните!

В описательных придаточных определительных предложениях заменить союзные слова who, whom, which словом that нельзя:
We received a letter which contained some important information.

That часто используется в разговорной речи, who и which более характерны для письменного английского:

(Разговорная речь) Robert Burns is a Scottish poet that wrote a lot of wonderful poems and songs.

(Письменный, официальный английский) Robert Burns is a Scottish poet who wrote a lot of wonderful poems and songs.
