Coordinating conjuntions

AND is used to join words or ideas together. John has a dog and a cat.	BUT is to joining two contrasting words or ideas. It is my birthday, but I'm not having a party	BECAUSE used to give reasons. I have to study because I want to go to university.
SO is used to show results. I was sick, so I stayed in bed.	YET is used to express extreme contrast. It is raining, yet there are lots of people at the beach	FOR is, like because, used to give reasons. I studied a lot in the last week, for I have a test tomorrow.
OR is used to talk about choices or alternatives. I don't like cooking or washing the dishes.	NOR is used to negate the second part of two negative sentences. My neighbor is not nice, nor do I like him.

Use one of these conjunctions with each sentence below: and, or, nor, but, because, so, yet, for, adding a second sentence

1. I don't like skiing……
2. Peter needs a better job……
3. The bus was late……
4. I was worried about my exam……..
5. The children are happy ……
6. They used to go to Paris often,……
7. I didn't have the time to prepare lunch……
8. Mom gave me money to buy a new dress……..
9. The book was exciting ……..
10. My sister is getting divorced ……..
11. I don't go to the cinema very often…… ..
12. She had to stay in bed……..
13. I would like to move to an other city……
14. I like working out……..
15. My car was broken……..
16. I can't ride a bike……..
17. I was late for work……
18. This restaurant is very expensive……..
19. My friend didn't go to the birthday party……
20. Peter is not in love with his wife……

LIVEWORKSHEETS