Holidays in Kazakhstan

Hi, guys! This week we're visiting Burabai National Park in the north. What a beautiful place! There are 14 large lakes here, and lots of smaller ones, as well as forests and mountains. Mount Kokshetau is the highest, at 947 metres!

Burabai is a popular place for rock climbing, but I prefer to keep my feet on the ground! In the mornings we hike around the park and camp at night. Right now, we're setting up our tent on the shore of Lake Burabai, the biggest of all the lakes. It's a hot day today and I'm thinking about taking a dip in the cool, clear water later – it looks so refreshing!

Some people call Burabai National Park 'The Pearl of Kazakhstan' and they're not wrong. It's got amazing scenery and interesting wildlife, such as deer, foxes and wild boar. Burabai is definitely a treasure. I love it! So ... where should I go next? Tell me your ideas for places to go on holiday in Kazakhstan.
