Yesterday was Anna's birthday. In the morning she ate delicious hot buns and drank some cocoa. Then her friend, Paul, came. They talked and played for a moment. Next he and Anna's family sang the Happy Birthday Song, they ate a marvellous chocolate cake and gave Anna a lot of presents. The most beautiful present was from Paul. It was an invitation for the ball for children. After the party Anna and her friend rode their bicycles to the swimming pool. She swam and played in the water with Paul. Next Anna's father took the children and their bicycles to his car and he drove them home. The kids were playing for three hours with Anna's new toys and then Paul had to go home. It was a perfect birthday for Anna.
