Canada would remind Norman Bethune, a great Canadian physician doctor, who devoted himself to China during World War II. And now, besides Dr. Bethune, whenever mention of this country with beautiful maples, my Canadian pen pal will come to my mind.

I met him in an English-learning forum. I often posted a lot of questions there, and he always voluntarily help me out. And gradually, we got familiar and became friends.

For a while, I was rather depressed. He always encourages me to cheer up. Now, I still remember well I got an e-card from him. I lighted up after watching that. He often said, "Keep smiling" at the end of his letter to me.

He was very tolerant, and I hardly saw he crossed swords against any other forum members there but one time. A woman put up a post, saying, "She would not agree her daughter to marry a black man." He responded with Martin Luther King's quote - We must judge people by the content of their character, rather than the colour of their skin!'. This comment of his branded on my mind then at once. Oh, the cool friend of Canada!
