Written Composition

Think of an object that is special to you. Write a descriptive story about it.

Start your story with a question or strong statement to hook the reader.

Tell how you got your special object.

Describe it using any of the five senses of hearing, seeing, tasting, touching or smelling.

Remind the reader why the object is special to you.

Tell how you feel about your special object.

LIVEWORKSHEETS