The United Nations International Children's Fund (or UNICEF) was founded in 1946 to provide emergency food and healthcare to children in countries that had been devastated by World War II. It is headquartered in New York City. It provides long-term humanitarian assistance to children and mothers in developing countries. UNICEF is currently focused on such problems as basic education and gender equality, child protection from violence, exploitation and abuse, and HIV/ AIDS. These children are at risk of death, poor physical and mental health, HIV infection, educational problems, and poor parenting skills later in life.

Right now, UNICEF is working to help the disabled children in provinces in Central Vietnam. It places a priority on finding out where children with disabilities live and what their needs are. It will also work to meet disabled children's immediate needs: help build more centers for disabled children, give them access to medical care and make sure they receive aids like wheelchairs. Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions from 36 to 40.

The status of women in Japan is complex and cannot be characterized in simple terms. Slowly, there is a growing number of professional women and professional women's associations. More women continue to work after getting married and having children. However, many companies have separate programmes for women, usually non-career development, and follow practices that would be considered discriminatory in other societies. For a typical couple, the female spouse is still generally expected to do all the cleaning, cooking, and other chores, whether she is working or not. Single women are said to be enjoying their lives, spending much money on traveling abroad and shopping. Housewives are active in networking themselves for various objectives, for example, volunteer activities, community services, recycling activities, study groups, and many others. The traditional Japanese value of "good wife, good mother" is changing.

Unlike other countries where a couple is the usual social unit, in Japan, it is typical for only the husband to be invited to business gatherings or to weddings for company employees. Exceptions are frequently made for foreign visitors depending on the occasion, but wives should not take their exclusion as a personal insult.
