Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Digital technologies have remarkably changed teenagers' life and work both positively and negatively. According to UNICEF, 71% of 15-24-year-olds are online and one third of Internet users are under 18 years old.

Teenagers benefit from the advances in technology. They have various devices like computers, tablets, smartphones, and applications to improve the ways they learn, broaden their relationships, and spend their leisure time. They have more opportunities to learn, get access to information, and use different communication channels inexpensively.

However, they also face many risks. First, there is a concern about children's physical and mental health. Statistics show that teens spend less time doing physical activities, and many more teens suffer from obesity, bone and eye problems. Moreover, teens are also at risk of visiting websites which promote self-harm or suicide. In fact, cyber-bullying on the Internet has become more serious than bullying at school.

Schools and parents should guide children so that they can use devices wisely and not become victims of those devices and technologies.

Question 40:

a. Teenagers may want to work part-time while still in school. Let's look at the pros and cons of teens having part- time jobs.

b. Last but not least, they can learn communication skills by interacting with different people and become aware of cultural differences in the workplace. On the other hand, working teens may become tired and stressed as they will have less time to rest and study. So, if teenagers fail to balance work and study, they may not be able to get good grades or may even drop out of school.

c. In addition, they can develop time-management skills. They will have to be more efficient and make better use of their time.

d. First of all, a part-time job provides extra pocket money. The money teenagers earn can be used to buy some of the things they need or want.

e. In conclusion, teenagers should be aware of both the pros and cons of working part-time. Studying should always come first as poor grades or dropping out of school will affect their future.
