Present perfect with just

Language focus

Use present perfect with just to talk about something you did a short time ago.

Would you like a sandwich? No, thanks. I've just eaten.

Form these phrases in the following way: has / have + just + past participle.

She's just gone out. He's just spoken to them.

1 Order the words to make sentences.

1 just / Alicia's / lunch / finished / . Alicia's just finished lunch.
2 from / work / back / got / Mum's / just / . _____
3 message / text / a / had / Paul's / just / . _____
4 story / heard / just / the / Dad's / . _____
5 a / just / walk / for / dog / the / Sam's / taken / . _____
6 exam / my / had / results / I've / just / . _____
7 just / home / Tara's / got / . _____
8 History / just / project / her / Sue's / finished / . _____

LIVEWORKSHEETS

2 Correct the sentences.

1 I've just saw the photo you sent me. It's really funny!
I've just seen the photo you sent me. It's really funny!

2 Alma just finishing her Science homework.

3 Grandma's just get on the bus.

4 Sorry, I just broken the vase.

5 My brother have just seen that film. He loved it!

6 My sister's just went to bed. She was really tired.

3 Rewrite the sentences with just and the present perfect.

1 Jack had a drink a moment ago. Jack's just had a drink.
2 Mum saw him two minutes ago.
3 Dad and Grandma went out not long ago.
4 I ate something a moment ago.
5 We came back a few minutes ago.
6 My friends heard the news a couple of minutes ago.

4 Write a second sentence with just and the present perfect to explain the first sentence.

1 I'm sleepy.
I've just woken up.

2 I'm not thirsty.

3 He's very happy.

4 They're not happy.

5 She's really tired.

6 I'm full.

LIVEWORKSHEETS