*685_1- Speakout 3rd A2 Student × | 686_1- Speakout 3rd A2+ Studen × | 686_4- Speakout 3rd A2+ Workb × |
C:/Users/MediaSoft/Downloads/685_1-%20Speakout%203rd%20A2%20Student's%20Book_2022.pdf
Накреслити | Запитати в Copilot | 104 з 180

–	uncountable	I like fish. Fruit is good for you.*

*With uncountable nouns, we use a singular verb.

This pasta is delicious. Our rice comes from India.

We use some to talk about a general amount, not an exact number.

We use a lot of for a big number or amount.

We use any in negative statements and questions.

quantifier	noun	example
some a lot of	plural countable	Let's buy some beans. You have a lot of grapes.
	uncountable	I'd like some pasta. We eat a lot of rice.
any	plural countable	I can't see any potatoes. We don't have any lemons.
	uncountable	Can you see any lamb? Do you have any orange juice?

We use some and something in questions to ask for and offer things.

Can I have some sugar, please?

Would you like something to drink?

3 Complete the conversation with a, an, some, a lot of or any.

Man: What's for dinner?

Woman: Well, let's see. Oh no, we don't have [1]_____ eggs.

Man: So I can't make an omelette. Do we have [2]_____ spaghetti?

Woman: Yes, I can see [3]_____ spaghetti. Five packets!

Man: Do we have [4]_____ tomatoes?

Woman: Yes, I think so. Yes, we have [5]_____ tomato.

Man: And [6]_____ onion?

Woman: No, I can't see [7]_____ onions.

Man: Oh. We just need [8]_____ butter.

Woman: No butter, but we have [9]_____ oil!

Man: No problem. So dinner is spaghetti with oil and [10]_____ tomato!

Активація Windows
Перейдіть до розділу "Настроювання", щоб активувати Windows.
LIVEWORKSHEETS
28°C Sunny | Пошук | 28.08.2025