IV. Read the following leaflet about AI-powered assistants. Decide whether the statements from 23 to 26 are True or False and choose the correct answer (A, B, C or D) to complete the statements in the questions 27 and 28. (1.5 pts)

As students prepare for their final-term exams, many of them are searching for effective ways to boost their language skills. Instead of relying only on traditional tutoring centers, a growing number of learners now turn to AI-powered language-learning apps.

In the past few years, these smart platforms have transformed how people study foreign languages. They can generate vocabulary lists, grammar explanations, and pronunciation guides, while also offering personalized study paths. With simple inputs – such as the learner's level, goals, and preferred pace – the software can design a tailored learning schedule. After users select their lessons, the AI continues working by giving instant feedback, correcting mistakes, and tracking study progress.

However, the technology still has its flaws. Because these systems depend on large datasets, outdated or incorrect examples may appear. Some apps repeat the same exercises too often, give unnatural sample sentences, or suggest phrases rarely used in real life. Others may promote paid features unnecessarily. Unlike human teachers, who can sense confusion, adjust explanations, or give emotional encouragement, AI tools lack the intuition and human warmth needed to handle complex learning problems.

Even so, AI-powered language apps have made studying more flexible and accessible. As the technology improves, they are expected to become more accurate and supportive in the future.

23. AI language-learning apps require students to attend tutoring centers before they can study.

24. These apps offer personalized study plans based on learners' goals and pace.

25. After learners pick their lessons, the AI stops supporting them.

26. Some AI apps may provide repetitive or unnatural examples.

27. According to the passage, what information helps the AI create a personalized study plan?

A. Weather conditions and school schedules.

B. Learners' level, goals, and preferred pace.

C. Past exam scores of other students.

D. Advertisements from language centers.

28. Why are human teachers sometimes considered better?

A. They always teach faster than AI.

B. They never repeat exercises.

C. They can sense confusion and encourage students.

D. They provide more grammar rules than AI.
