Many schools have s_____s of different nationalities. In the p_____ at one school in London you can hear not five languages, not fifteen, not thirty, but forty-two! Byron Court is a p_____ school with 600 children from five to eleven years old.

They are from Somalia, Iraq, Poland, Romania, Nepal, the Philippines and many more. And, oh yes, of course, from England! This part of London has families from all over the world. They come to live and work in London.

Many children don't speak _____ when they start. It can be a problem. But with good t_____ and friends they learn fast. Soon their English is good and their school work is good too. The children at this school get to know children from different countries. They're l_____ing and t_____ing together. It's great for them to have f_____s from different countries.

The students wear a u_____. Girls and boys wear a tie. They get h_____ every day and teachers give them g_____s.

At Byron Court the children don't only do school work. They l_____ about different cultures. They also learn to work together. A good example for everyone.

LIVEWORKSHEETS