VII. Read the story and choose the correct answer.

Rayshaun took his place on the track for the next running event, the 100-meter dash. He thought about his hero, Jesse Owens, who also ran track in high school. Over 80 years ago, Owens tied the world record for the 100-meter dash several times with a time of 9.4 seconds. Rayshaun's best time was 9.8. Could he tie Owen's record today?

The starting gun went off! The runners raced down the track. Rayshaun tried to do his best.

When Rayshaun crossed the finish line, the clock showed 9.7 seconds. Rayshaun had taken a tenth of a second off of his time. He was even closer to Owen's record!
