THE

You can translate THE as EL / LA depending on if the Spanish word is masculin or femenin

- The blackboard = ...
- The notebook = ...
- The table = ...
- The map = ...
- The door = ...

puerta cuaderno pizarra mapa mesa

You can ALSO translate THE as LOS / LAS depending on if the Spanish word is masculin or femenin when it is PLURAL

- The blackboards = ...
- The notebooks = ...
- The tables = ...
- The maps = ...
- The doors = ...

puertas cuadernos pizarras mapas mesas

When we have some prepositions it could be confusing

entre means between

El libro está entre la mesa y el ordenador

encima de means above

El libro está encima de la mesa

El libro está encima ~~de el~~ escritorio

El libro está encima del escritorio

It does not mean that THE changed it meaning, but that in Spanish we do not want to repeat the letter e so we put the two words together: DE + EL = DEL

When the sentence is plural the verb also changes !

El libro está encima de la mesa

Los libros están encima de la mesa
