

REPORTED SPEECH & INDIRECT QUESTIONS

In reported questions the verbs are usually in the affirmative and the question mark becomes a full stop. To report a question we use:

- ask + wh- word (who, where, etc) when the direct question begins with a wh- word,
- ask + if/whether when the direct question begins with an auxiliary verb (do, have, can, etc.).

Pronouns, possessive adjectives, tenses, time expressions, etc. change as in statements.

He said, "What are you doing?" He asked what I was doing.

He said, "Did you enjoy the party?" He asked if/whether I enjoyed/had enjoyed the party.

IMPORTANT:

We use indirect questions to ask for information/advice.

We use reported questions to report someone else's questions, suggestions, offers or requests.

Indirect questions are introduced with:

Could you tell me ... ?

Do you know ... ?

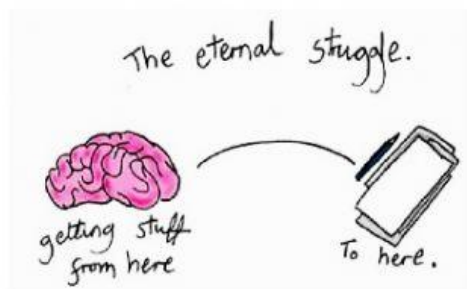

I doubt....

I wonder ...

I want to know ...

Their verb is in the affirmative.

If the indirect question starts with I wonder ..., I want to know ... or I doubt ..., then the question mark is omitted. Question words (what, who, where, etc.) or whether can be followed by an infinitive in the reported sentence.

DIRECT QUESTIONS

He asked me, "Shall I phone her?"

He asked me, "What time is it?"

He asked me, "Where can I put it?"

REPORTED QUESTIONS

He asked me whether he should phone her.

He asked me what time it was.

He asked me where he could put it.
or He asked me where to put it.

INDIRECT QUESTIONS

I wonder whether to phone her / whether I should phone her.

Do you know what time it is?

Do you know where I can put it?
or Do you know where to put it?
