Pearl Diving in the UAE

Pearl diving is a traditional job in the Arabian Gulf. Pearl diving season starts in June. Many divers go together in boats to find pearls. There are around 20 people in a boat. They find pearls in animals called oysters.

In the past, pearl diving was different. It was a long day. Pearl divers worked from sunrise to sunset. Divers went into the water with a rope on their feet. They were underwater for three or four minutes looking for oysters. Then they pulled the rope and went back to the boat. After a short rest, they went back into the water and collected more oysters.
