

Demonstrative Determiners

this / that / these / those

- It is used to indicate how near or far something is from us.
- We use this and that for one thing (singular), while we use these and those for two or more things (plural).

E. Change the following sentences from singular to plural

Singular	Plural
1. This book is good.	These books are good.
2. That girl has dolls.
3. This office is near the bank.
4. That is my notebook.
5. This boy is fourteen years old.
6. That dog is black.	