A. Рубрика:

Patron saint of Ireland, St. Patrick, was a real man who was born around 389 AD and died probably in 461. He studied in European monasteries and after several years was sent back to Ireland as a bishop. There he spent the rest of his life teaching the people of Ireland to read and write while converting them to Christianity: tried to combine old customs with new meanings. Still, his life was in constant danger because there were always people who didn't want to change.

B. Рубрика:

However, as time went on, he was loved more and more. During his lifetime Patrick's fame as a teacher and missionary spent throughout the Western world. During the Dark Ages, when education and arts had almost disappeared in Europe, St. Patrick's teaching kept learning alive in Ireland. The country became known as the 'Island of Saints and Scholars'.

C. Рубрика:

There are a lot of stories about amazing things St. Patrick is supposed to have done. It's said that once he escaped from his enemies by turning himself and his companies into deer. Another story tells how one of his friends was saved from fire because he was wearing Patrick's robe. The most famous legends are about how Patrick drove all the snakes out of Ireland because he had cast a magic spell on them.

D. Рубрика:

While the legends about St. Patrick feats are fun and interesting to hear, the truth about him is what made him a great and famous man. Almost single-handedly he saved the fundamentals of civilization for the Western world. And it is through him that Ireland has its centuries old traditions of scholarship and literature.

E. Рубрика:

Ireland is known as the Emerald Isle because of the lush green colour of the landscape. Its mild, moist climate is ideal for vegetation and type of clover called shamrock grows everywhere. This three-leafed plant has become a symbol of Irish heritage and many people wear green shamrocks on St. Patrick's Day in March, 17.

F. Рубрика:

In fact, green is colour everywhere associated with St. Patrick's Day; both in the United States and in Ireland, people wear something green on this holiday. At one time, a person who wasn't wearing green on St. Patrick's Day got a little pinch (=pick at) from anyone who caught him or her.

Neptune

Neptune is known as the blue planet. It gets its colour because it is surrounded by methane gas. There are lots of interesting facts about Neptune.

You might think that where you live is windy, but Neptune is the windiest planet in our solar system, with winds of over 2,200 kph! For some reason, these winds always travel from east to west across the surface of the planet. It is also very cold on Neptune, with temperatures as low as 235 C.

When Voyager 2 passed Neptune, it observed four faint rings around the planet. It also discovered new moons. Neptune has eight moons — half as many as Jupiter. The largest of these moons is called Triton. This moon orbits in the opposite direction to all the other moons.
