Malala Yousafzai: A young education activist from Pakistan

"One child, one teacher, one book and one pen can change the world"

Hi Malala. Welcome to our TV show Teens Have a Voice.

Hello and thank you for the invitation.

Please, tell us about the problem in your community.

Well, in Pakistan some girls cannot go to school or work. They can only stay home and pray. That is not fair!

You are right. That is terrible! Education is very important for boys and girls. So, what activities do you do to help girls?

Well, I give speeches and write books about girls' education. I wrote a book called I Am Malala. It's my biography.

Wow! It is a famous book! What is the message of your book?

Fight for equality for girls and women in the world.

Malala, thank you very much for your time. Do you have a message to share?

My personal quote is: "One child, one teacher, one book, and one pen can change the world".

That's a great message! Keep changing the world.

Thank you.

Jose Quisocala: A Young banker from Arequipa, Peru

"Use your creativity to change the world!"

Jose Adolfo, welcome to our radio show Young Leaders.

Hi and thanks for the invitation.

Please, tell us about one of the problems in your community.

In my community, some teenagers and kids don't go to school because they need to work.

That's terrible!

So I started Bartselana Student Bank with one mission: to help students earn money and save money too.

That's interesting! How do students earn money?

Well, there is a kiosk in my school, teenagers and kids can sell used paper and plastic to recycling centres there.

That's a great idea!

Oh yeah! Teenagers and kids open their bank accounts in Bartselana Students Bank. There are more than 3,500 students with bank accounts They deposit the money they get from the recycled plastic and paper into their accounts.

Fantastic! Do you have a message to share?

Use your creativity to change the world! My favourite quote from Jane Goodall is: "Children can change the world".

That's a great message! Keep changing the world.

Thank you very much.

NOTE
Jane Goodall is an English scientist.

PERÚ Ministerio de Educación

Change the World

Prof. Ebert Taipe Taco
English: Level preA1

APRENDO en casa

22 WEEK

PROPOSITO

My Project*

Leerás dos entrevistas a adolescentes que están cambiando el mundo, e identificarás vocabulario y frases sobre problemas de su comunidad y del mundo. Finalmente, crearás una entrevista para crear conciencia sobre un problema que afecte al mundo.

1 Complete the chart with the words in the boxes.

Name: Joel Huarachi - José Quisocala - Malala Yousafzai.
City and Country: Arequipa, Peru – Puno, Peru – Swat, Pakistan.
Roles: innovator – inventor – campaigner

Who are they?

Name:	Name:	Name:
City: Country:	City: Country:	City: Country:
Roles:	Roles:	Roles:

2 Complete the sentences from the texts.

Malala is a young activist from _____ .
"Teens have voice" is a _____ .
The problem in Malala's community is that some girls _____ .
Malala's famous book is called _____ .
It's a _____ . The message of Malala's book is:
"_____".

Jose Quisocola is a young _____ from _____ .
The problem in Jose's community is that some teenagers and kids _____ because they need to work.
Bartselana helps kids and teenager _____ and _____ money. José's message is:
"_____".

3 Classify the following phrases in the chart.

1. ~~Use your creativity to change the world!~~
2. ~~"Every minute is a chance to change the world". Dolores Huerta~~
3. ~~I wrote a book called I Am Malala.~~
4. "One child, one teacher, one book and one pen can change the world" – Malala.
5. In Pakistan many girls cannot go to school or work.
6. Help your community with your determination and motivation.
7. In my community some teenagers and kids don't go to school because they need to work.
8. "Children can change the world" – Jane Goodall.
9. Iron is very good for people with anaemia.
10. Fight for equality for girls and women in the world.

FACTS	QUOTES	CALLS FOR ACTION (IMPERATIVE)
I wrote a book called "I am Malala"	"Every minute is a chance to change the world"	Use your creativity to change the world!

4 ¡NOTEMOS ALGO!

Luego de realizar las actividades puedo concluir que:

a) Llamar a la movilización para realizar una acción en específico. En estos casos normalmente se utiliza el imperativo.
"quote" "facts" "calls for action"

b) Hechos, datos o acontecimientos verdaderos.
"quote" "facts" "calls for action"

c) Cita o transcripción de lo que alguien dijo o escribió.
"quote" "facts" "calls for action"

LISTENING COMPREHENSION

Interview with Joel Huarachi about his project. Choose the correct answer.

1.- The name of the podcast is:
Game Leaders Game Changers Changes

2.- The problem in his community is:
Contamination
Inequality
Anaemia and malnutrition.

3.- The project is:
To raise awareness
To stop contamination
To produce a healthy and nutritious snack.

4.- Joel's message is:
Fight against inequality.
Respect the environment.
Help your community with your determination and motivation.

5.- Joel's favourite quote is:
"Children can change the world".
"Every minute is a chance to change the world".
"One child, one teacher, one book and one pen can change the world".

¿Lo puedo hacer?	😕	🤔	🙂	😎
¿Puedo identificar información específica de un texto breve y simple?
¿Puedo identificar los propósitos de los jóvenes activistas?
¿Puedo organizar mis ideas para crear una entrevista breve y sencilla?				