Tom Grant from Scotland rode his bicycle around the world in six months. The full interview about this trip will appear in the next magazine. Here is a part of the interview.

Why did you decide to ride a bike around the world?

When I was 15, my dad took me on a bike ride from London to Paris. I enjoyed the challenge, and so I decided that after finishing high school I would ride my bike around the world.

I'm sure you had many adventures. Can you tell me about one of them?

There really were many adventures; you can read about them on my blog. I will tell you about something that happened while I was in Brazil. I was riding my bike when all of a sudden the wind started to blow and it started to rain. I could see a huge black cloud spinning* around – a tornado was coming towards me and it was getting louder and moving faster. I knew tornadoes are very powerful storms. I realized I was in danger and I was really scared. I knew I had to find somewhere to hide and I had to do it fast. Suddenly I saw...
