Dialogue: How to become a Canadian citizen

A:	I want to become a Canadian citizen. What do I have to do to be eligible?
A:	I got my P.R. card today! Can I apply now?
A:	How can I prove my English ability?
A:	What about my kids, do they have to prove English ability?
A:	What should I do next?
A:	When do I have to pay?

B:	No, they don't have to show language ability, because they are under 18. You can include them in your application.
B:	Well, first, you have to be a permanent resident.
B:	Pay the fee before you send the application. Finally, you have to send everything to Sydney, Nova Scotia. Good luck!
B:	Next, download and fill out the application form.
B:	You can send a certificate from LINC school. You have to finish CLB 4 in Listening and Speaking.
B:	No, you must stay in Canada for at least 1,095 days before you apply. Then, you have to prove your language ability.
