"Picnic"

Tom and Lisa are cousins. They love going on picnics. Today is a good day for a picnic. It is nice and warm and the sun is shining.

Tom makes cheese and tomato sandwiches. Lisa prepares some fruit salad. She also takes some cold drinks from the fridge and some chocolate biscuits. They both love chocolate biscuits.

They don't know where to go for their picnic. They look at the map. They decide to go to South Park. South Park is a big park with lots of trees and four lakes with many different types of ducks.

The park is a long way from their homes. The children ride their bikes to the park. When they arrive they are hot after all the exercise and feel very thirsty. Lisa puts her hand in her picnic bag. Oh, no! She has left the drinks on the kitchen table! They look around and find a drinking fountain. Oh, well. Never mind…Water is great when you are thirsty!

After half an hour, Tom starts feeling hungry. Let's eat the sandwiches, he says.

Suddenly, they hear a noise. Brroomm. Oh dear! And now it is starting to rain!!!!
