WILL VS GOING TO

WILL	+ Promesa + Predicción + Algo que se desea hacer en el futuro + Expresar acciones futuras expresadas en el momento de hablar. + Expresar una predicción basada en opinión personal o experiencia
GOING TO	+ Algo que va a suceder muy pronto + Expresar un plan futuro decidido antes del momento de hablar + Expresa una predicción basada en presente evidencia.

WILL

- Express future actions decided at the moment of speaking (immediate decision)

  E.g: I'll have salad now.

- Express a prediction based on personal opinions or experiences

  E.g: I think United will win the game.

- Express a future fact

  E.g: The sun will rise tomorrow.

GOING TO

- Express future plans decided before the moment of speaking (prior plans)

  E.g: I'm going to visit my aunt next Friday.

- Express a prediction based on present evidence

  E.g: Look at those black clouds. It is going to rain.

- Express that something is about to happen

  E.g: Get back! The bomb is going to explode.

Both Will and Going to can be used for making future predictions without having a real difference in meaning.

E.g: I think it will be foggy tomorrow. = I think it is going to be foggy tomorrow.
