SEPARABLE PHRASAL VERBS

Blog. Lots of lists

I write lists on my bedroom board. Lists, lists and more lists! I guess I'm obsessed with making lists

- School assignments and when I have to hand them in.
- Words I don't know so that I can look them up later.
- Books I have borrowed from friends so that I remember to give them back.
- Parties and excursions and the exact times people are going to pick me up or I'm going to pick them up
- Interesting internet sites, so that I can check them out

There are so many things on my lists that I can never do everything. And every day the list gets even longer. Does anyone else out there have the same problem?

Listlady 09/ 11 /2020

I'm really obsessed, I hate to throw away my lists, so I keep them all and read them again. It's a little like keeping a diary. Does anyone have any advice on how to stop this obsession?

FIND IN THE ARTICLE AND WRITE THE PHRASAL VERBS THAT MEANS:

1. _____ return
2. _____ collect / get a person
3. _____ deliver / give to the teacher
4. _____ discover the meaning
5. _____ investigate

6.- _____ discard / put in the trash

SEPARABLE PHRASAL VERBS

Grammar:
We use pronouns to replace the names of people or items in a sentence when they are the object of a verb.

School assignments and when I have to hand them in.
them = assiggnments

Object pronouns

me	him	us
you	her	them
	it

A. Look at the phrasal verbs you saw in the blog and answer the questions

1.- What is then position of the object pronouns in these phrasal verb?
a) at the end b) after the preposition c) between the two-part verb

2.- When you use a noun,
a) does it always have to come between the two-part verb?
b) Can it also be placed after the two parts?

He wrote the notes down.

He wrote down the notes.

B. Look at the sentences below. Decide and choose the correct ones

a) Throw the paper away
b) Throw away the paper
c) Throw it away
d) Throw away it

a) Pick up James
b) Pick James up
c) Pick up him
d) Pick him up

C.- Unscramble. If two different word order are correct write both

1.- homework / in / Hand / your /

_____

_____

2.- up / look / that word / I'm going to /

_____

_____

3.- up / at six / her / Pick /

_____

_____