FILL IN THE MISSING POSSESSIVE ADJECTIVES:

This is my friend John. _____ hobbies are soccer and chess.
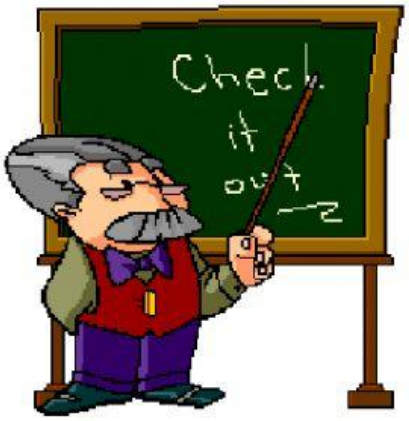
Mary likes _____ cat.
The children play with _____ new ball.
I often visit _____ grandma in Sydney.
She always shows me _____ photo album with lots of old photos.

We sometimes talk about _____ new English teacher.
My dog never sleeps in _____ hut.
The teacher said, "You must do _____ homework more carefully!"
"Is _____ name George?" – "No, _____ name is Roger!"
John and Paul play pop music but _____ friends don't like it.



This girl can sing quite well. _____ favourite song is "Yesterday".
Tom likes _____ new computer game very much.
"Can't you lend me _____ rubber?", Peter said to me.
The boys played with _____ new ball on the sports ground.
"We want to stay in _____ old classroom", the pupils shouted.

I often don't know where _____ pencil case is.
My little sister likes _____ dolls very much.
In Munich dad buys a new mouse pad for _____ computer.
Our cats sleeps in _____ basket in the cellar.
I like _____ job, do you like _____ job?

Sally is married. _____ husband works in a bank.
The children are playing with _____ new ball.
Susan can't find _____ pencil and _____ rubber?
My dog likes _____ new hut.
I know Mr Watson but I don't know _____ wife.

Put on _____ coat when you go out. It's very cold.
_____ favourite sport is tennis. I play a lot in summer.
Peter and I like _____ new maths teacher. She is very nice.
I gave the money to my mother and she put it in _____ bag.
Mr and Mrs Baker live in London but _____ son lives in Australia.

John is a teacher but _____ sister is a nurse.
We are going to have a nice party with _____ friends.
I think most people are not happy in _____ jobs.
I don't know where _____ English book is! Have you seen it?
Every day the old elephants sleeps very long in _____ cage.

Yesterday I saw Cindy with _____ new boyfriend.
Sarah, can you show me _____ new wristwatch?
We're staying at a nice hotel. _____ rooms are very comfortable.
I'm so sleepy, I won't watch _____ new video.
Cambridge is famous for _____ university.

The Cliffords often play monopoly with _____ children.
Does he know that _____ uncle is a football star?
I often see that girl but I don't know _____ name.
We sometimes take _____ parrot to school. That's always funny.
A week ago I met Liz and Phil with _____ daughter, Ann.

Thank you for _____ letter, it was very nice.
Jack has lost _____ new camera at the disco. He is very angry.
My sister can't find _____ iPhone any more.
"Where is _____ golden pen?" Dagobert asked.
My father and _____ boss are sitting in the living room.