Choose the correct option.

1. After the earthquake, there was a lot of_____from the buildings all over the streets.
   a. windows
   b. aids
   c. debris

2. The local Red Cross_____for money so that they could help the victims.
   a. appealed
   b. wanted
   c. went

3. After the powerful hurricane in Puerto Rico, most of the island's_____was destroyed.
   a. building
   b. infrastructure
   c. road

4. It's always hard to get_____like food and water to the victims after a disaster.
   a. elements
   b. supplies
   c. bags

5. One of the most immediate effects of the disaster was the_____of food and clean water.
   a. empties
   b. relief
   c. shortage

6. After a hurricane, people have to be_____from flooded areas and taken to safety.
   a. evacuated
   b. helped
   c. escaped

7. If the water levels_____any further, all access to the town will be blocked.
   a. appeal
   b. rise
   c. launch

8. Hurricane Katrina, which devastated New Orleans, was a terrible humanitarian_____.
   a. crisis
   b. event
   c. news

9. The 1906_____in San Francisco destroyed a huge number of buildings in the city.
   a. impact
   b. earthquake
   c. infrastructure

Complete each sentence with the correct phrase from the list.

the brave the old the outgoing the rich the young

10. _____don't know much about working life yet.

11. Most people think that only_____will benefit from the new tax laws, such as business

© 2018 National Geographic Learning, a

LIVEWORKSHEETS

owners.

12. To do this job, you need to be good at talking to people, so it would suit_____.

Complete each sentence with the correct phrase from the list.

gave it a go went around the globe struck a chord unfolded washed away

13. I'd never helped out with a disaster relief effort before, but I_____.

14. Last year's tsunami_____a number of towns and villages in this area.

15. This story of the family separated during the tsunami has really_____with me.

Are the following sentences correct? Choose Y (Yes) or N (No).

16. The hurricane, that struck Puerto Rico yesterday, was the strongest one for sixty years.

17. The island, whose inhabitants are quite poor, was barely able to cope with the devastation.

18. The island was inundated with volunteers from abroad, many of whom had Puerto Rican roots.

19. The chef, I spoke to yesterday, offered to provide free food for the hungry people.

20. We were very relieved to find out all of the people that we'd met were OK.

Rewrite each pair of sentences using a relative clause.

21. Jackie is a colleague. Jackie's sister volunteered in Japan after the earthquake.

_____

_____

22. My cousin lives in Berlin. She is a successful writer.

_____

_____

23. Penny has lost her favourite red hat. I bought her the red hat last year.

_____

_____

24. Simon was forced to flee from the town. He had lived in the town all his life.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

_____

_____

25. The book tells the story of a Mexican village. My friend wrote the book.

Match the two parts of the sentences.

a. having seen the important work carried out.
b. working together for these important causes.
c. called Children in Need.
d. receiving help and support increases every year.
e. facing a range of disadvantages in their life.

26. In 1980, the BBC created a charity
27. It supports children
28. The TV campaign, or Telethon, show groups of people
29. The general public is inspired to help

30. The number of children

Complete the paragraph with the correct options.

Devastating floods have hit India, Bangladesh and Nepal this week. Talking about the 200 people (a)_____(killed / being killed) and thousands (b)_____(leaving / left) homeless by the disaster, a local aid worker said that it was 'heartbreaking'. She continued, 'This is one of the worst floods (c)_____(affecting / affected) the region in years.' International aid agencies said thousands of villages (d)_____(cutting off /cut off) by flooding are currently inaccessible, with people (e)_____(being deprived of / depriving of) food and clean water for days.

31. (a) _____

32. (b) _____

33. (c) _____

34. (d) _____

35. (e) _____

Choose the correct option.

36. The number of people_____by crime has been falling in recent years.
a. having affected
b. affected
c. affecting

37. There are special centres_____for homeless people in the city.
a. setting up
b. having set up
c. set up

LIVEWORKSHEETS

38. _____what I do about the local situation, I wouldn't recommend visiting the area unless absolutely necessary.
   a. Knowing
   b. Known
   c. Having known

39. _____on aid projects in the past, I decided to volunteer to help at the collection centre.
   a. Working
   b. Having worked
   c. Worked

40. _____us examples from different businesses, the video demonstrates how effective the software can be.
   a. Shown
   b. Having shown
   c. Showing

Read. Choose T (True) or F

(False). A chef on the ground

On September 20th, 2017, Puerto Rico was hit by a hurricane. When Hurricane Maria slammed into the Caribbean island, it was the most powerful hurricane to hit the US territory in nearly 90 years. It knocked out electricity to the whole island and caused widespread damage to homes and infrastructure.

Most people probably don't think of it as being part of the United States, but the people who live in Puerto Rico definitely do. It has been a territory since 1898, and its 3.4 million people are US citizens. After the hurricane, getting aid to Puerto Rico was difficult, and the US government was fairly slow to react. Luckily for Puerto Rico, they have a man called José Andrés.

José Andrés is a chef who has made a huge difference to this devastated island. When the hurricane struck, he immediately decided to go to Puerto Rico and take his skills to help out with the disaster relief. José Andrés was born in Spain, but it was in the US where he became famous for his modern approach to cooking. He has nearly 30 restaurants there now, but in the months following Hurricane Maria, he was usually to be found in Puerto Rico.

José Andrés arrived on the devastated island a few days after the storm to see how he could help on the ground. He is not a disaster relief expert, so the kind-hearted chef began doing what he does best. He found a kitchen, bought some ingredients, and began to cook. That first day, José Andrés and his small team made about a thousand meals. After that, he recruited an army of chefs and volunteers, and together they served more than three million meals to the hungry people of Puerto Rico. Preparing meals for so many people is a massive task, requiring trained chefs, thousands of volunteers and a lot of sandwiches!

41. Puerto Rico is part of the US.

42. José Andrés was born in Puerto Rico.

43. José Andrés owns restaurants in the US.

44. José Andrés was well known for being an expert in these situations.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

45. On the first day, José Andrés and his team made 100 meals.
46. Professional chefs helped José Andrés.

Read the text. Complete each sentence with the correct word from the list.

crisis devastation offer initiative shortage supply

A chef on the ground

On September 20th, 2017, Puerto Rico was hit by a hurricane. When Hurricane Maria slammed into the Caribbean island, it was the most powerful hurricane to hit the U.S. territory in nearly 90 years. It knocked out electricity to the whole island and caused widespread damage to homes and infrastructure.

Most people probably don't think of it as being part of the United States, but the people who live in Puerto Rico definitely do. It's been a territory since 1898, and its 3.4 million people are U.S. citizens.

After the hurricane, getting aid to Puerto Rico was difficult and the US government didn't react immediately. Luckily for Puerto Rico, they have a man called José Andrés. José Andrés is a chef who is making a huge difference to this devastated island. When the hurricane happened he immediately went to Puerto Rico and took his skills to help out with the disaster relief. José Andrés was born in Spain, but America is where he became famous for his modern approach to cooking. He has nearly thirty restaurants in the US now, but in the months following Hurricane Maria, he was to be found in Puerto Rico.

José Andrés went to the devastated island a few days after the storm to see how he could help on the ground. He is not a disaster relief expert, so he began doing what he does best. He found a kitchen, bought some ingredients, and began to cook. That first day, José Andrés and his small team made about a thousand meals. After that, he recruited an army of chefs and volunteers, and together they've served more than three million meals to the hungry people of Puerto Rico. Preparing meals for so many people is a massive task, requiring trained chefs, thousands of volunteers and hundreds of sandwiches!

47. People were suffering from a_____of food in Puerto Rico.

48. The hurricane caused a humanitarian_____on the island.
49. José Andrés's_____was to prepare food for the survivors.

50. A lot of people offered to_____their time.

51. Some of the team worked on a steady_____of sandwiches for the people affected.

Read. Look at the three statements and choose N (Neutral) or B

(Biased). A chef on the ground

On September 20th, 2017, Puerto Rico was hit by a hurricane. When Hurricane Maria slammed into the Caribbean island, it was the most powerful hurricane to hit the U.S. territory in nearly 90 years. It knocked out electricity to the whole island and caused widespread damage to homes and infrastructure.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Most people probably don't think of it as being part of the United States, but the people who live in Puerto Rico definitely do. It's been a territory since 1898, and its 3.4 million people are U.S. citizens.

After the hurricane, getting aid to Puerto Rico was difficult and the US government didn't react immediately. Luckily for Puerto Rico, they have a man called José Andrés. José Andrés is a chef who is making a huge difference to this devastated island. When the hurricane happened he immediately went to Puerto Rico and took his skills to help out with the disaster relief. José Andrés was born in Spain, but America is where he became famous for his modern approach to cooking. He has nearly thirty restaurants in the US now, but in the months following Hurricane Maria, he was to be found in Puerto Rico.

José Andrés went to the devastated island a few days after the storm to see how he could help on the ground. He is not a disaster relief expert, so he began doing what he does best. He found a kitchen, bought some ingredients, and began to cook. That first day, José Andrés and his small team made about a thousand meals. After that, he recruited an army of chefs and volunteers, and together they've served more than three million meals to the hungry people of Puerto Rico. Preparing meals for so many people is a massive task, requiring trained chefs, thousands of volunteers and hundreds of sandwiches!

52. It was the most powerful hurricane to hit the US territory in nearly 90 years.
53. After the hurricane, getting aid to Puerto Rico was difficult, and the US government was fairly slow to react.

54. He is not a disaster relief expert, so the kind-hearted chef began doing what he does best.

Listen. Choose T (True) or F (False). Audio 3.09

55. John Burton is a scientist.

56. John Burton says that earthquakes and hurricanes are linked.

57. Earthquakes are caused by movement in the tectonic plates.

58. A hurricane is a kind of storm.

59. Hurricanes happen in very cold waters.

Listen. Match the word to the correct meaning. Audio 3.09

60. globe
    a. Earth
    b. northern hemisphere
    c. round

LIVEWORKSHEETS

61. link
    a. relate
    b. say
    c. count

62. phenomena
    a. beauties
    b. occurrences
    c. visions

63. point out
    a. expect
    b. mention
    c. explain

64. prone to
    a. exceptional for
    b. likely to be affected by
    c. rarely linked to Listen. Match the two parts of the sentences. Audio 3.09

a. earthquakes and hurricanes occur independently.
b. happen to the Earth, while hurricanes happen in water.
c. there is necessarily a relationship between earthquakes and hurricanes.
d. an independent group.
e. a climate-change scientist.

65. Burton works for
66. Burton is
67. Burton says that
68. Burton doesn't think that
69. Burton explains that earthquakes

Writing

65. An organization is looking for volunteers to go to Nepal to help with reconstruction after an earthquake. Write the first paragraph of an application Write at least five sentences.

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

_____

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Complete each sentence with the correct preposition.

66. I'm writing_____response to your recent advertisement.

67. I feel that I would be very suitable_____the post.

68. _____terms of my experience, I volunteered last year for Save The Children.

69. Please send me details_____how to apply.

Watch and answer the questions. Write one or two sentences. Videos 9.1 and 9.2

70. How high were the waves in the town in Iwate Prefecture that Becci went to, and how far did they travel inland?

_____

_____

71. What did she and her friends start doing to the photos that had been found?

_____

_____

72. What was done to the photos once a week in the temporary photo libraries?

_____

_____

73. How long did it take to fix the photos?

_____

_____

74. How many photos were hand-cleaned by how many volunteers in Japan?

_____

_____

75. How much did it all cost? What was most of the money spent on?

_____

_____

LIVEWORKSHEETS