Helping Hally

Sam was sitting on the chair, watching television. His mom walked in the door with Hally, their dog. Hally walked right over to Sam and licked him hello.

"Hi Hally! How was your check-up?' Sam asked. Hally just looked at Sam.
"We have to help Hally" said Mom.
"Help her how?" asked Sam.
"Do you remember when we went to pick up Hally from her mom? We picked her because she looked like her mom. She is brown with spots, with long ears and she was energetic, so we thought she'd be strong, like her mom. But how does she look now?" Mom asked.
"Well," thought Sam, "She's still brown with spots and long ears, but she's not very energetic or strong anymore."

"That's what the vet said, too. We haven't been letting her exercise as much and we've been feeding her a lot. She would probably look just like her mom now if we had walked her more. We have to start walking her more often, so that she'll stay healthy for a long time. Will you help?"
