
-ED / -ING ADJECTIVES

test-english.com

VERB	INSPIRES THIS FEELING	I FEEL THIS WAY
AMAZE	AMAZING	AMAZED
AMUSE	AMUSING	AMUSED
ANNOY	ANNOYING	ANNOYED
ASTONISH	ASTONISHING	ASTONISHED
BORE	BORING	BORED
CONFUSE	CONFUSING	CONFUSED
DEPRESS	DEPRESSING	DEPRESSED
DEVASTATE	DEVASTATING	DEVASTATED
DISAPPOINT	DISAPPOINTING	DISAPPOINTED
EMBARRASS	EMBARRASSING	EMBARRASSED
EXCITE	EXCITING	EXCITED
FRIGHTEN	FRIGHTENING	FRIGHTENED
INTEREST	INTERESTING	INTERESTED
IRRITATE	IRRITATING	IRRITATED
SHOCK	SHOCKING	SHOCKED
SURPRISE	SURPRISING	SURPRISED
TERRIFY	TERRIFYING	TERRIFIED
TIRE	TIRING	TIRED
WORRY	WORRYING	WORRIED

test-english.com

Choose the correct form (adjective ending in -ed, -ing, or the verb) to complete each sentence based on the context of cardiovascular exams.

1. (Listen / Listening / Listened) to the patient's heart sounds helps doctors identify abnormal rhythms.
2. A patient may feel (worried / worrying) when undergoing a cardiovascular exam for the first time.
3. The doctor found the examination results (reassuring / reassured), as there were no signs of disease.
4. The nurse is (assess / assessing / assessed) the patient's blood pressure as part of the exam.
5. Patients often describe feeling (relieved / relieving) after receiving normal exam results.
6. It can be (exhaust / exhausting / exhausted) for doctors to conduct several cardiovascular exams in one day.
7. The irregular rhythm was (surprised / surprising), indicating a possible arrhythmia.
8. A (frustrated / frustrating) aspect for doctors is when patients do not follow their heart health recommendations.
9. The patient looked (tire / tiring / tired) after completing the physical exertion part of the test.
10. Conducting a cardiovascular exam can be (stress / stressful / stressed) for students new to clinical practice.

LIVEWORKSHEETS