INFORMATIVE ESSAY: DEFINITION

Let's know more!

A definition essay, from the word 'define', explains the meaning of words and concepts. It is an informative and expository essay that can be self-explanatory. Like usual essays, it is a five-paragraph essay that consists of an introduction, body, and conclusion.

Though its goal is only to discuss something, it should have a single topic on which you can determine its origin. A definition essay is not as easy as you think it is, as it needs careful consideration in finding the sources and perspectives of people about it.

Analysis and definition may seem a little similar, but they are different in terms of purpose. While analysis needs deeper studies, definition, on the other hand, needs to just clarify its meanings.
