1. "He is your father," answered his mother. He is very brave and very wise. Of all the deer in the forest, not one has lived half so long. That's why he is called the Great Prince of the Forest."

2. "Bagheera brought the basket to the wolves' den. When the mother wolf and her cubs found the laughing baby, they smiled. Rama, the father wolf, was not so pleased at first. But soon he, too, was smiling at the man-cub.

3. "She saw four pale men in a smaller boat. The men were rowing toward the shore. She had never seen men like these before. And the sailors had never seen such a beautiful place before. John Smith couldn't wait to explore this beautiful land."

4."You look just like me. Exactly like me!" cried the Prince. Then the Prince had an idea. "I could take your place just for one day. I'm tired of being a prince. I'm tired of studying and fencing and never having time for myself. I'd like to see what's going on outside these castle walls. If we swapped clothes, you could live like a prince for a while."

5. "She first tried the biggest bowl with the most amount of porridge in it . "Oooh" she said. "Too hot." Then she tried the middle-sized bowl. "Yuk, too cold!" she said. Next she tried the little bowl. "Yum, yum just right, "she said, and quickly ate it all up. Then she tried sitting in the biggest chair but it was very uncomfortable.

6. "He filled his lungs up with air. He huffed and he puffed, and he huffed and he puffed, and he blew the house down. "Let's run! Fast!" They cried terrified. And they rushed to the third brother's house."

7. "Trying to pretend she was somewhere else, she leaned over, closed her eyes and kissed the frog. Suddenly the room was filled with bright lights and stars! Ivy opened her eyes and couldn't believe what she saw. The frog had disappeared! He had turned into a handsome prince!

8. "Then, he hurried to Grandma's bedroom and searched her drawers until he found a big pink nightgown and a frilly nightcap. Quickly the wolf dressed himself in Grandma's clothes and leapt into bed just as he heard the little girl approaching the house."

9. "They all gathered around the big egg and watched as the mother duck sat on top of it for a day and a night until the egg, at last, began to stir. Slowly it cracked open and out tumbled a big scruffy duckling with grey feathers and very black feet. "Oh, my," said the mother duck, "you are a funny one!"

10."The fairy touched her with her magic wand and the rags she was wearing turned into a beautiful gown. "You must come back before midnight," warned the fairy, "because at that hour the spell will disappear."

11. "The next day, they sent them to seek firewood in the thickest part of the forest, in the hope that they would get lost. He, who knew that, dropped crumbs of bread to guide them home again."

12. There was once an old miller who died and left the little he had to his three sons. To the youngest of the brothers all left was his cat. "What on earth can I do with a cat?" he said. The cat heard what he said and replied, "Master, give me a pair of boots and you'll see how clever I am."
