I (A1) ... back from the USA, where I was delighted finally to visit the city of St Louis. I (A2) ... over it so many times high up on the interstate highway that (A3) ... more fashionable places on the east and west coasts, and I (A4) ... myself I'd stop one day. In fact, although it (A5) ... by tourists, St Louis is an amazingly creative place. I had breakfast at the Blueberry Hill café, which boasts the world's finest jukebox (музыкальный автомат) and a guitar belonging to the legendary rock star Chuck Berry. Iced tea (A6) ... here in 1904, but that isn't the local speciality I wanted to try. Driving out of town on the road known as Route 66, you come to Ted Drewe's famous shop which (A7) ... 441 flavours and styles of frozen custard, a sweet delicacy so popular that the police have to control the crowds at weekends. It's one US fast food that has never been franchised, so it's not available anywhere else.
