Harder Spelling (negative prefixes)

responsible	literate	expensive
practical	possible	sensitive
polite	concerned	patient
correct	educated	formal
reasonable	complete	friendly

Using the words from the box above, write them with the CORRECT PREFIX in the sentences below:

IM (Words that start with M or P)	IL (words that start with L)	IR (words that start with R)	IN	UN

1. If literate means to be able to read, then _____ means to not be able to read.

2. When something has been done wrong it is _____.

3. When something is not finished it is _____.

4. If someone is not nice, then you can say they are _____.

5. Formal is like fancy (especially with clothes). So _____ would be not fancy.

6. If something doesn't cost a lot of money it is _____.

7. Someone who has never learned to read and doesn't know much in general is said to be _____.

8. Sensitive people care about the feelings of others, whereas _____ people do not.

9. Someone who can't wait is _____.

10. Something that doesn't make a great deal of sense to do would be _____.

11. Someone who behaves crazily, without regard to rules or listening to reason, could be called _____.

12. To be concerned is to show that you care, so to not care about something at all would be _____.

13. Another word for rude is _____.

14. Someone who can not be trusted to behave as they should is _____.