Read the text carefully, decide whether the following statements are true (T) or false (F).

Kobe: There are many famous speciality dishes in Japan, but one of the most outstanding dishes is Kobe beef. It comes from a local breed of cattle called Tajima and it's named after the city of Kobe in Hyogo Prefecture. Kobe beef is expensive because the cows are given beer to drink, and they are massaged with sake (rice wine) every day. These special conditions make sure that the meat is tender and contains a lot of fat which gives it a unique taste. Its unique flavor makes the beef famous and iconic all around the world. The beef can be eaten as steak or in hot pots, shabu-shabu, or sukiyaki.

Bizen: In Bizen City in Okayama Prefecture, Japan, there is a long tradition of pottery. People have been making Bizen-yaki (Japanese pottery) here for over 1,000 years. The artisans make the pottery by hand using clay from the area. There are six traditional shapes of Bizen-yaki: bowls, plates, cups, flower vases, pots, and jars. The artisans of Bizen City have handed down their skills from generation to generation, preserving the original way of making Bizen-yaki. In the old days, people used Bizen-yaki pots to cook rice and vegetables. Today, Bizen-yaki is popular because it is beautiful and useful. People now use it to drink tea and coffee, eat food and plant flowers.

Both Kobe beef and Bizen-yaki are crucial and beautiful parts of Japanese culture. While eating Kobe beef is a special experience for visitors to Japan, offering a little taste of Japanese luxury, Bizen-yaki is part of everyday life in Japan.
