A prank call is a telephone call to play a practical joke on the person answering

LEARNING ENGLISH IS FUN

Demolition Call

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JllQi0cNRuM

This is a prank call in which an eight-year-old girl tries to hire the services of a demolitions company in order to destroy her school in Dublin.

Let's make sure you know the following vocabulary, it will help you understand the call!

SOME VOCABULARY IN IMAGES

Listen and repeat. Then drag each word to the correct image.

wallop wrecking ball bang crash demolish wee blow up

SOME SYNONYMS

Drag and drop each word next to their synonym.

wee	funny story or trick
knock down	collapse
demolish	explode or cause to explode
top man	destroy
blow up	knock to the ground
fall down	boss
joke	very small, tiny, teeny

LIVEWORKSHEETS

SOME EXPRESSIONS

What do these expressions mean?
Read the definitions and drag each one to the correct place.

"crash-bang-wallop" -

bear with me a second - hold on one second -

a ballpark figure/estimate -

get away with something -

fill your boots -

I dunno -

man up and do your job, go for it, get up and get going

I don't know

to succeed in avoiding punishment for something to be patient and wait while someone does something used to tell someone to wait for a short time an interjection used for emphasis, especially to indicate loud noises

a number that is a guess, but one that you believe is near the correct number

SOME GRAMMAR: The Causative

In English, we use this structure when we ask or pay somebody to do something for us.

have / get (any tense) something done (past participle)

My sister has her hair cut every month
My sister gets her hair cut every month

I will have my suitcase brought from the airport
I will get my suitcase brought from the airport

I didn't have my car repaired last week
I didn't get my car repaired last week

DEMOLITION CALL

Now you are ready to listen to this prank call. Have fun!

LIVEWORKSHEETS