How travel inspired my life

Today, I travel all around the world as a jewellery designer, but travel was also central to my (0) ..... . My parents encouraged my sister and me to keep records of our (1) ..... in journals and to put together scrapbooks with souvenirs of our adventures. Before departure, a private tutor was hired to equip us with the (2) ..... of our destination's native tongue. My poor sister was not a (3) ..... brilliant linguist and found the whole process a considerable strain. My experience was very different. My wanderlust was (4) ..... when, straight out of school, I had the opportunity to spend periods in India, Eastern Europe, Africa and Asia. I travel like a (5) ..... explorer, absorbing the details of art and architecture, going into the local history and traditions in (6) ..... . I bring this approach to my work today. I am constantly reading, researching and (7) ..... my knowledge. Not (8) ..... , every jewellery collection I work on is an utterly unique representation of a part of my life's voyage.
