

An illustration showing two hands being washed with soap and bubbles. A yellow bar of soap is in the center, with the word 'SOAP' written on it. Several blue and white bubbles are floating around the hands and soap. The background is white, and the bottom of the page features a blue wavy line representing water.

We cannot get into the school if our temperature is above 37.5 degrees. Our teachers always ask us to wash our hands frequently and not to get too close to our classmates.
