What a Day?

My day was a total nightmare. This morning, my cat was soaked wet. It rained all night and I forgot to let him in. At school, the teacher was disappointed with me, because I forgot to do my homework. To make matters worse, on my way home, we got a flat tire. We had to wait a whole hour to get it fixed. The bus driver did not see the hole in the middle of the road. What made me miserable was when I arrived home, there was no lunch. Mom forgot the food on the fire. Could it get worse?

Cause	Effect
