Life on a Scottish island

I'm Sarah and I live on a small island in the north of Scotland. There isn't a school here, so I go to school on another island. I travel to school by ferry five days a week and I have to get up very early. I love travelling by ferry in the winter because there are lots of big waves. But when the weather is very bad, I study on the computer at home.

My name's Olivia and I live on a small island in the west of Scotland. The island is famous for its sheep and my parents have got a farm. I help my parents look after the animals every day and I often feed the sheep before I go to school. I love playing with the baby animals, too.

I'm James and this is my sister, Fiona. We're from an island in the west of Scotland. Life here is very quiet. I often ride my bike in my free time. It's very safe because there aren't any cars. I go to the beach with my sister, too. You can sometimes see seals and dolphins in the sea. They're beautiful.
