Once upon a time, there was a piece of rope called Oliver_____was waiting for Sports Day. This day _____ came only once a year was a special school day. It was the day _____ students could play sports all day long.

Oliver the rope wondered what his friends _____ were in his class would play. Oliver knew Felicia _____ liked to play soccer. He wasn't sure what Alex, _____ was his best friend, would play. It was pretty certain that Maria, _____ dog Oliver loved, would play softball, _____ she liked the most. Bob _____ liked hiking would probably go hiking, _____ was nice way to spend the day. He would probably go to the forest _____ is near our school. The forest _____ he wanted to go is called The Oak. I went there once with my grandma _____ I was young.

Maybe someone would pick the old basketball _____ was left on the class corner. It was left there by someone _____ name was Alice. Jim, _____ backpack was still on the table, had already left. The pen _____ he used, was also still there.

Anyway, as Oliver the rope walked to school, he met his teacher, _____ smiled at him. She asked what sport he would play. She asked would he play basketball. Oliver, _____ loved baseball and not basketball replied: "I´m a frayed knot."
