Trip Essentials

Last summer, our class went on a camping trip in the mountains. Before the trip, our teacher told us to prepare some important trip essentials.

First, we needed a sleeping bag to stay warm at night. The weather in the mountains can be cold. We also had to bring a waterproof jacket because it sometimes rains in the afternoon. To protect our skin from the sun, we used sun cream. At night, we used insect repellent to keep mosquitoes away.

During the trip, we walked along a beautiful nature trail and saw many trees and birds. Some students tried to go rock climbing with the teacher. It was exciting but safe. We also learned how to make a den using branches and leaves. The teacher said this skill is useful if we want to survive in the wild.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

In the evening, we made friendship bracelets and gave them to our best friends. One group even made funny pet rocks and drew faces on them. Before going home, we painted a big wall painting together to remember the trip.

Camping is a great way to explore a new place and learn new skills.
